

Homeopathic Formulas / Remedies

Homeopathic remedies are often referred to as the “gentle giants.” Electrical impulses, such as the pulse of the heart, must be working properly for the body to function at an optimum level. Homeopathics work with the body’s electric impulses, which means that the body’s natural processes are not interrupted or overruled. The beauty of Life Choice® Homeopathics is that the energy is created by hand successions or forceful shaking. This gives the product its own oscillating frequency. Homeopathics work by signaling the body to respond. Because the response comes from the body’s own processing, the product is already bioidentical. The homeopathic delivery ensures both effectiveness and safety, and the high quality ensures a reliable product.

The human body is dependent on the electrical impulses (“beats”) of the heart for survival. If the body’s electrical impulses are malfunctioning, disease will follow. Homeopathics work with the body’s current, encouraging its proper function through self-healing. Homeopathics are also gentle and less prone to negative side effects than allopathic medicine. Example products: Colloidal Silver, Thyroid Support, HGH+

All Life Choice® homeopathic remedies are produced using the human touch prepared by the hand shake method.
